Designing what we love has always been part of our brand's culture as we believe a correct and functional design can help to preserve primary resources. A tap is not just a tap anymore, it is a commitment to both the environment and people; thus, our designer's task is getting higher each day. "ALTA" means high (task) in Italian, it is a series of cold taps made of brass and stainless steel that are fitted with "Green" water saving aerator. The flat-round handle design amplifies a sense of elegance and modernity that makes this series suitable for any environment.
